WANTED:

Hydrologic Technicians
Nez Perce - Clearwater National Forests

The Nez Perce - Clearwater National Forests are hiring up to one (1) seasonal Hydrologic Technician (GS-1316-6; approx. $17.00/hour) and six (6) Hydrologic Technicians (GS-1316-5; approx. $15.00/hour) to support Forest management and restoration projects. Work will be located across the Forests. Dependent on crew assignment, primary duties will include measurement of stream channel characteristics and conditions, OR inventory of forest roads and drainage structures. Road surveys involve navigating difficult terrain, typically walking abandoned and heavily vegetated road prisms and travel with ATV’s (all-terrain vehicles). Stream surveys also require arduous work in rugged terrain. Remote fieldwork will require staying at Forest Service work stations or camping at primitive sites for up to 50% of the season. Crewmembers will receive a field stipend (per-diem), in addition to regular wages, when work requires overnight stays.

The Forests are looking for persons who are enthusiastic and self-motivated with a responsible work-ethnic and a genuine interest in forest watershed management. Selected candidates will be expected to work safely and effectively with other crew members and independently. The ability to work effectively in physically and mentally challenging field conditions is desirable. Experience in field data collection, orientation by map, photo and GPS, and outdoor skills will be valuable. This is an excellent opportunity to participate in forest watershed management efforts in a spectacular landscape.

The duration of the position is approximately mid-May through September, 40-hrs/week. Depending on funding and applicant schedules employment may be extended beyond September (but not to exceed base 1039 hours). Government housing is available for the positions based out of Kamiah, ID and Pierce, ID. Technicians will be expected to camp periodically and stay overnight at other temporary work stations.

The following positions may be filled. The exact number of positions filled will be based on the current budget.
