Precision Agriculture Agronomist – Central Valley, CA

Innovative company in precision agriculture is seeking highly motivated and energetic agronomist for implementation and development of novel high end technology product.

Qualifications
• Bachelor in agronomy or related field required, MSc preferred
• Excellent writing, analytical, and presentation skills
• Self-management whilst working effectively in a team environment
• Ability to stay focused and execute in a fast paced environment with lots of change

Essential Functions
• Implementation of the product to growers
• Presenting in seminars and field days
• Engage with scientist to evaluate and improve the product
• Clearly deliver requirements from the growers throughout the organization

Candidates, please send your CV and a short (100 words or so) cover letter to: omer.s@phytech.com